DETAILED ACTION

(1)

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 23-31 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the instant invention and U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689 both disclose a labeling method and comprises rotating the packages at a circumferential velocity corresponding with the carrier web speed in the region of the transfer location and moving the transport conveyor and the carrier web in opposite directions.

(3)

Claims 32-40 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 8-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689 in view of U.S. Patent No. 4,806,197 to Harvey. Both the instant invention and U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689 both disclose a labeling apparatus comprising a drivable continuous transport conveyor with uniformly spaced, rotatable receiving means for the packages; a drivable continuous carrier conveyor with uniformly spaced decorations on the carrier past a contact region between the transport conveyor and the carrier conveyor, said contact region forming a transfer location, wherein there are disposed in the region of the transfer location a pressure applying device for applying pressure onto the carrier conveyor in the direction of the packages and drive means of the carrier conveyor are designed for opposing directions of movement

Although U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689 does not specifically claim a storage and take-up reel which works in concert with the drive means for supplying carrier, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to provide the apparatus of U.S. Patent No. 6,098,689 with storage and take-up reels for the carrier motivated by the fact that such storage and take-up reels, such as those disclosed by Harvey, are well known and conventional in the labeling apparatus arts.
